

2007 International Conference of Chinese American Educational Research and Development Association

CAERDA Conference Theme Demystifying Model Minority's Academic Achievement: Implications of Chinese/Asian Educational Principles and Practices for a Global Learning Community

Please join us at this exciting annual event attended by researchers and practitioners from around the globe, including the US, Canada, Hong Kong, Singapore, Taiwan, and Vietnam. This year we gather to engage in an expanded discussion and invigorating dialogue on Asian and Asian American educational experiences from multiple perspectives, including psychological, ecological, educational, and methodological. Many talented scholars will also join us to share their cutting-edge findings on issues related to CAERDA's mission to promote educational excellence and equity for all. The distinguished speakers and panelists on the conference theme include (in alphabetical order):

Jinfa Cai, University of Delaware
Chuansheng Chen, University of California at Irvine
David Yun Dai, State University of New York at Albany
Jamie Lew, State University of New Jersey at Rutgers
Guofang Li, Michigan State University
Jin Li, Brown University
Vivian Louie, Harvard University
Ling-chi Wang, University of California at Berkeley
Min Zhou, University of California at Los Angeles

And of course, don't forget to join us at the dinner banquet for a delightful feast as well as social networking. This is a once-a-year opportunity for new friends and old acquaintances to get together to show their support of CAERDA. Please visit our website www.caerda.org/conference.htm to register for the conference and the dinner banquet. For further information, please contact Conference Chair at Leigh.Wang@uc.edu. We look forward to seeing you in Chicago!
