Can you trust the USB stick you're about to plug into your network?

Business Continuity Awareness Week (BCAW) is an ideal forum for educating organizations on the importance of business continuity planning. By collaborating, knowledge transfer, sharing experiences, and incorporating industry best practices, we can be better prepared to respond in the event of a business interruption.

This year's BCAW theme is: "Cyber Resilience" In the weeks leading up to and throughout BCAW, this theme will be explored and expanded through contributions from our BCAW partners, organizations and their respective members. During the month of May, free Webinars will provide valuable insight on business continuity and cyber resilience best practices and real world events.

BCAW webinars are free!

Sign up for webinars from May 8 - May 25 at: http://www.drie.org/toronto/bcaw.php

Become a member of DRIE and continue the discussion year-round.

Be sure to check frequently for the latest schedule of webinars.

You are also invited to participate in BCAW group discussions at: http://bcaw.groupsite.com

🕑 🕒 (f) (in

www.thebci.org

The Disaster Recovery Information Exchange (DRIE) Toronto chapter are offering webinars to celebrate Business Continuity Awareness from May 5 to May 25. Registration is open - please spread the word to your organizations, friends, and colleagues.

Visit http://www.drie.org/toronto/bcaw.php

This series of webinars is brought to you by DRIE and partners to promote and support Business Continuity Awareness Week (BCAW) across Canada:

The Business Continuity Institute Canada Chapter (BCI) Disaster Recovery Institute Canada (DRIC) The World Conference on Disaster Management (WCDM) The Canadian Risk and Hazards Network (CRHNet) Centennial College - Emergency Management and Public Safety Institute (EMPSI) York University

HZX Business Continuity Planning

For more information about Business Continuity Awareness Week in Canada, contact the DRIE Toronto Events Director at events@toronto.drie.org. and follow us at @DRIEToronto.

The Disaster Recovery Information Exchange (DRIE) is a non-profit association of professionals dedicated to the exchange of information on all aspects of planning for an emergency or a disruption to normal operations. DRIE's goal is to provide an accessible, informal, open forum for the exchange of information and knowledge related to the many variations of emergency preparedness.